According to the Iron Age, there were on October 1, in blast in the United States, furnaces enough to turn out 201,404 tons of pig iron per week. This breaks all previous records of that industry, and be it remembered, it followed a reduction of the tariff at that, remarks the Bourbon News.

AMERICAN fleece wools declined from 7½ cents to 15 cents per pound and American scoured wools from 15 to 27½ cents per pound between October 1st, 1891, and October 1st, 1895. Foreign wools, on the other hand, were higher October 1st, 1895, than they were on October 1st, 1891.—Public Ledger

That's what you call an upward decline isn't it?

It may be remarked in parenthesis that Jno. P. McCartney, who is usually on the raging stump during a campaign, is not pawing up the earth in behalf of Billie O. B. this year, but is attending strictly to business at his law office.—Fleming Gazette.

Let's see, wasn't Mr. McCartney a candidate for Attorney General? Probably he knows who turned him down.

THE Fleming News calls attention to the fact that none of the big and influential Republicans of the State are being heard from on the stump in this campaign. Where is Judge Denny, and ex-Congressman White, and Wood, and Comings, and Burns, and Evans, and Yerkes and others? This is significant. They know Bradley and they know he dictated the present ticket from top to bottom, and that he proposes to be boss. In other words they know they have got to bow the knee to Bradley if they want any favors. Many of them will no doubt do as Hon. John D. White says he intends doing, vote against Billie O. B. and thus put an end to one-man rule.

GOOD ADVICE, AND TIMELY.

"Not in Kentucky, nor in Maryland, nor in Iowa, nor in the Eighteenth Illinois District, nor in any State or other political division, should Democrats forget that the result of this year's elections will be used to encourage or confound the National Democratic party in organizing for next year's battle," says the St. Louis Republic.

"Some Kentucky Democrats are approached with appeals to bolt because the candidate is extreme on one side of the silver question. Some in Iowa are told that the candidate leans over-much to the other side of that question. In Maryland it is held against the nominees that they have Gorman's support.

"Such differences can not be settled by bolting. A Democratic defeat entails Democratic weakness. Defeat a candidate by bolting or staying at home and his friends will consider that revenge hereafter will be the just imitation of the precedent. Thus the seeds of dissension are sown for a succession of Democratic defeats.

"Republicans, when elected by Democratic discords, will not help us to compose any of our party troubles or carry out any of our individual wishes. They will use their power to grind in the dust our party's principles and pour obloquy upon its name.

"Support the Democratic candidates and prepare to manfully argue and fight for supremacy within the party next year. Let the majority rule all the time and the minority be loyal if unconvinced."

We commend the above to the Louisville Post, John Atherton, Boyd Winchester, Quincy Ward, and the Courier-Journal gang.

Can't Get an Office From Democrats and is Conspiring With Republicans.

[Elizabethtown (Ky.) News.]

There is a conspiracy in Kentucky between the gold-bug Democratic bolters and the Republicans. The conspiracy has for its object the defeat of Hardin for Governor and Blackburn for Senator. This bargain and trade whereby the Democratic party is to be sold out is an arrangement between John M. Atherton, of the first part, and W. O. Bradley, of the second part. The plan upon which both these arch conspirators are working is a sell-out of their respective parties for their personal advancement. Atherton is leading the revolt in the Democratic party upon a prearranged plan. He made the first move when he wrote his card declining to support Hardin. Gold bug as he is, he is using the money question to further his personal ambition. The defeat of Hardin must be accomplished to carry out the deal, and the money question is the weapon that is being used for this purpose. The object of the conspiracy is to elect Bradley Governor of Kentucky and Atherton United States Senator. Atherton is to elect Bradley by leading the revolt against Hardin and using the Louisville Post to assist him in this contemptible treachery, and in return Bradley is to elect Atherton to the Senate by turning over to him the Republican votes in the Legislature, which, together with such Democrats as can be persuaded to bolt the cause, it is thought will be sufficient.

These high-handed conspirators have on the Democratic side abandoned McCreary, knowing him to be too loyal a Democrat not to submit to his party caucus, and on the other hand Bradley will ignore Gus Wilson, John Yerkes and other Senatorial aspirants, and in order to carry out his part of the compact is arranging to deliver the goods in return for his election.

The Republicans are told that they must be satisfied with the Governor this time, and in order to secure the Governor they must agree to elect a gold-bug Democrat to the Senate. That the bolting of the caucus by gold-bug Democrats and the defeat of Hardin will insure the State to the Republicans next year and a Republican Senator when it comes to elect Lindsay's successor. As we stated, Atherton played his first card in declaring against Hardin, and the second step was clearly outlined in his organ, the Post, last Wednesday, when it was stated that enough gold-bug Democrats would decline to go into the legislative caucus to insure the defeat of Blackburn. The footprints of the gentleman in moccasins from Garrard are also visible. In September last his special friend, Dr. James, who is the Republican candidate for the State Senate in the Muhlenburg district, declared in a speech at Central City that if he believed a Republican could not be elected United States Senator he would vote for a single gold standard Democrat. At the same time William Clark, the Republican nominee for the Senate in the Pulaski district, made the same public statement. Both of these districts are overwhelmingly Republican, and there was no necessity for this statement to secure the election of either of these gentlemen. Since these speeches the Republicans nominees have taken it up all over the State and are iterating and reiterating it. Bradley is also to help the plan along praising Cleveland and Carlisle from the stump. Are the Democrats of Kentucky to lend themselves to a plan to foist this man Atherton, this whisky distiller, who might promote his whisky interests, into the United States Senate? This man who could not carry a single county in Kentucky, and who but recently was overwhelmingly defeated in his own city? This political bolter, who with his deadly knife seeks to cut down the Democratic nominee for Governor, in order that he may step over his corpse into the United States Senate?
